

TEACHSHARE

Why This, Why Now?
Let's build something together.

Teachers across Hyde Park schools have told us they want more chances to:

Share ideas across schools

Build meaningful professional connections

Make their practice visible and improve upon it, without judgment or mandates

Let's make it happen.

Let's co-design the first-ever Hyde
Park Educators Conference.

Join our community to help this vision become a reality below.

WHAT WE ARE ASKING

- Not a commitment, just interest
- Help us shape the design and goals
- Share this with fellow teachers!

TEACH SHARE

Presented by
CHARLIE DILLON
University of Chicago
Faculty Advisor: Dr.
Adam Parrott-Sheffer
EDSO 23015

Imagine This:

- A half-day event
- Hosted locally
- Open to all public, private, and charter school educators
- Focused on classroom practice—not policy

Lightning talks on “what worked for me”

Roundtable clinics by grade level and subject

Match-ups between teachers with shared challenges

Early design input on a platform to share tools and lessons

Why it matters?

1

Teachers are doing incredible work—but often in silos

2

No one knows what’s working across the street

3

Let’s create a space that celebrates, spreads, and strengthens everyday practice in Hyde Park

Let’s Design the Future of Teacher Collaboration

This isn’t another top-down reform.

This is a grassroots idea, sparked by real conversations with Hyde Park educators.

We believe teachers deserve:

- More trust
- More autonomy
- More community

TeachShare is a step toward that future.
